

2022 Annual Report

United Way of Pierce County

tackling poverty at its roots

Because one in three families is too many

Dear United Way of Pierce County Community,

As we reflect on the past year and look ahead to the future, it is clear that achieving our vision and mission requires a deeper understanding of the challenges faced by those in our community. We cannot simply rely on assumptions or statistics to guide our actions. We must listen to those with lived experience and center their voices in our efforts to create a just, equitable and inclusive Pierce County.

With this in mind, I am thrilled to present our 2022 Annual Report, which not only highlights our accomplishments from 2022 but also emphasizes our commitment to truly hearing and uplifting the experiences and perspectives of our community members.

We continue to center our work around the voice of ALICE (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed) individuals, and developed an informal theme, "Centering Our Work Around ALICE: The Power of Listening to Community Voices."

By intentionally listening to the voices of our community, particularly those who are facing challenges such as asset limitations, income constraints and employment struggles, we can better advocate for their needs and create more effective solutions.

In 2022, we developed a new vision statement that embodies our unwavering dedication to a just, equitable and inclusive Pierce County. At the heart of this vision is our commitment to supporting ALICE families, and we have made a deliberate effort to center their voices as we navigate the challenges of COVID-19.

To further support our diverse community, we established the Hispanic Heritage Group and the Black African American Initiative, and we will continue to take meaningful action in the year ahead.

We continue to work with our partners to challenge our collective understanding of what it means to provide opportunities for all to achieve their highest potential. By recognizing and addressing the unique obstacles faced by marginalized groups, we can work toward a more inclusive Pierce County where everyone has the resources and support they need to thrive.

We are more committed than ever to our mission of improving lives in measurable and lasting ways, and we thank our supporters, partners and volunteers for their continued dedication to our work. By working together, we can build a more just, equitable and inclusive community where everyone has the opportunity to thrive.

Have you met ALICE?

ALICE® is a United Way acronym for Asset Limited, Income Constrained and Emloyed. Dismantling poverty is not only about programs and services. Understanding and working to shift systems that create wealth disparities is essential for us to succeed.

- 1 in 3 community members live below the ALICE threshold, which means they are earning less than needed to maintain economic stability.
- More than half of ALICE Families (57%) do not have enough saved to cover three months of living expenses in the case of an emergency or loss of employment.
- ALICE families often find innovative ways to get by and navigate issues such as food insecurity, difficulty paying bills, reducing debt and maintaining health care.
- Living from paycheck to paycheck can take a toll on mental health and wellness.
- Scan the QR code below to view United Way of the Pacific Northwest's 2023 ALICE report for Washington and Pierce County to learn more about the racial wealth gap and trends among ALICE in our community.

“United Way and 211 have been a lifesaver for my family, but it was their navigator who was truly an angel. She went above and beyond to find the resources and help I needed, not just once but twice. As a Domestic Violence Survivor, I left with nothing, not even hope. With two little ones to support on my own, I felt defeated and lost. But thanks to United Way and 211, my children and I were able to find a home and a better situation. They gave us a head start toward the life we want to live. We will be forever grateful for this life-saving organization and everyone involved.” –Anonymous

Success Story

(*Name changed to keep identity confidential.)

Despite working long hours at a fast-food restaurant, Sara* struggled to make ends meet, and her income was way lower than her expenses. With a newborn baby to care for, she knew that she needed to find a way to increase her income to avoid homelessness.

That's when she came to UWPC's Center for Strong Families (CSF) Salishan Center. CSF's integrated service model, which combined employment, income support and financial coaching, offered her a lifeline.

When she first started working with coach Kenan Hadzic at CSF, she had only $4 left over after paying all her bills for the month. But with CSF's help, she was determined to turn her situation around.

Through hard work and dedication, Sara advanced her career, moving from her job at the fast-food restaurant to a gas station with better hours. Eventually, she landed a job at an employment agency that not only offered a good base salary but also provided bonuses for exceeding sales goals.

The client's budget, savings and net worth all increased as she started earning more money. And now, she works 8am to 5pm, which aligns perfectly with her daycare hours of 6am to 6pm. Her current job even offers her the flexibility to work from home, providing her with the work-life balance she needs.

Thanks to her determination and the support she received from Kenan and the CSF team, Sara was able to create a brighter future for herself and her baby.

Centennial Campaign

Creating Possibilities Together

On May 14, 2021, United Way of Pierce County turned 100 years old. To kick off a multi-year celebration, we invited the community to donate non-perishable food to feed hungry families at a drive-up birthday party in conjunction with Hunger Awareness Month. On September 21, 2021, we invited the community to rally with us on an amazing ride through United Way's 100-year history at the Centennial Rally, Revving Up for the Next 100 Years! The event was virtually hosted at the LeMay – America's Car Museum. The Rally kicked off an $8 million Centennial Campaign called Creating Possibilities Together.

On May 3, 2022, nearly 200 people convened in person at Tacoma's LeMay – America's Car Museum. It was a continuation of the Centennial festivities and an opportunity to create awareness of the Centennial Campaign designed to support our ongoing work. The program included testimonials and inspirational anecdotes from speakers such as Jim Walton, UWPC Centennial Campaign Tri-Chair, UWPC Board Member, a community activist and former Tacoma City Manager, Dona Ponepinto, UWPC President and CEO, Steve Harlow, Chair of UWPC's Board of Directors, and Todd Silver, UWPC Centennial Tri-Chair. J'nai Starks, a South Sound 211 Navigator, also took the stage to share her personal journey. The Centennial Campaign will continue into 2023 with a Donor Wall Unveiling in February and a Gala on May 6.

United Way of Pierce County Celebrates Community Partners

"GRIT has helped me in ways I didn't expect, and those payments helped me afford the expensive tutoring that my 11-year-old really needed. It's changed my house for the better. And I've felt so much less month-to-month stress since this program started. It feels like I have some room to breathe."

– Geno Rosario

2022 Highlights

On July 29, we recognized our community partners and campaign award winners and nominees at the Premier Partners and Campaign Awards event at the 1882 Club at Cheney Stadium.

More than 200 people gathered at the Hotel Murano on November 15 for the annual From Poverty to Possibilities summit. The event featured a panel discussion that included Debbie Wilkerson, a Growing Resilience in Tacoma (GRIT) Guaranteed Income recipient.

On March 10, we held a virtual "town hall-style" summit called "Together for ALICE" to discuss our progress in lifting families out of poverty and data on equity and resilience in our community.

Through place-based, two-generation investments supporting Franklin Pierce Schools' students and their families, 11,794 individuals received culturally appropriate food, social-emotional support for students, parenting support and more.

Growing Resilience in Tacoma (GRIT), a guaranteed income research demonstration, provided $500 monthly for 13 months to 110 Tacoma ALICE families, totaling $715,000. Participants, mostly women (83%) and Black, Indigenous and people of color (77%) allocated the assistance primarily towards essential needs.

GRIT's success led to advocacy for poverty solutions at various levels, including the Washington State Legislature and The White House. Partners included the City of Tacoma, Mayors for a Guaranteed Income and the University of Pennsylvania's Center for Guaranteed Income Research.

Pierce County Coordinated Transportation Coalition, including UWPC, aims to eliminate transportation barriers for Pierce County residents. Their objective is to establish a coordinated system that provides rides to anyone in need.

UWPC collaborates with the Pierce County Early Childhood Network, focusing on enhancing child, family and community well-being in Pierce County. 211 serves as the central access point, assisting families with resources.

UWPC is part of the Workforce Development Council in Pierce County, focusing on delivering accessible and high-quality workforce development services.

UWPC's Center for Strong Families joins The Siemer Institute and Tacoma Housing Authority to promote two-generation (2-gen) approaches, addressing the needs of both children and adults. Their aim is to foster academic success and break the cycle of poverty through this partnership for generational success.
